

Dear Birth Mama,

Even though we haven't met, we pray for you and your child each day. You are a courageous young woman. You are loved and prayed for. Our home is full of love, happiness, compassion, and Jesus. We promise to provide the same love, safety, and happiness always and forever to your child.

We adopted our first child a few years ago. It has been an amazing and beautiful journey. Becoming parents has been the most precious gift the Lord could ever bless us with. We are excited to grow our family through the gift of adoption. We know our child is going to make the best older sibling!

We are grateful that you have looked at our page, to learn more about us (much more detail and pictures) you can view our profile book with Covenant. If you feel that we are the forever home for your sweet child, we want you to know that you will always have a place in your child's life. You are always welcomed and loved.

We will continue to pray for you. May God the Father's endless love fill your heart forever and always!

Love,
Craig, Nicole & Y
