

We are so excited that you are reading our letter! We know you are making a sacrificial choice, and want you to know we are praying for you, every step of the way.

Our promise to you is, if you choose us, that we will provide a home that loves the Lord, and loves each other. We promise to give your child all the love we possess, to teach him or her to be kind, loving, God-honoring, strong, confident, and to know they are valuable because God says they are.

We also promise that you will be a person who is honored and respected in our home. You are demonstrating the greatest love possible, and our family will always recognize that, and honor you. You will always be loved in our home.

We are praying with you in this decision. We pray for you, for the child, and to be the parents the child deserves. We pray for absolute peace for you, whether you choose us, or someone else.

Love, Stephen and Maegan
